Age of victim: 31

Suspect Name: Daniel Rollman

Summary of the incident:

On January 24, 2006, around 11:30 p.m. , police were called to 9875 Maplewood Drive, Riverton Bay, CA 90210, USA, in response to a call regarding a possible homicide. Upon arrival, they found the victim, Rosalin Rollman, aged 31, lying on the living room floor with obvious signs of strangulation. The initial investigation revealed that the victim had undergone an abortion five days before the incident. Witnesses reported hearing a violent argument between the victim and her husband, Daniel Rollman, shortly before the incident.

Investigation details :

After interviewing neighbors and family members, it was established that Daniel Rollman and Rosalin Rollman had a history of domestic violence. The suspect was seen leaving the crime scene shortly after the alleged time of death. An autopsy was ordered to confirm the cause of death.

Preliminary autopsy results indicate that the victim was strangled with a blunt object, causing fractures to the cricoid cartilage and bruising to the neck. There were no signs of a struggle, suggesting the victim may have been surprised by the attack.

Status of investigation:

The investigation is ongoing. Daniel Rollman is currently wanted for questioning.

Observations of the forensic pathologist :

The victim had a recent abortion five days before the alleged date of death, which could have psychological or emotional implications in the context of this crime. However, no direct evidence has been found linking the abortion to the motive for the murder. The time of death is estimated between 10:00 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. on January 24, 2006.

Conclusion :

The murder of Rosalin Rollman appears to be a case of domestic violence resulting in death. Steps are underway to locate and question Daniel Rollman. Anyone with information about the incident is asked to contact the Riverton Bay Police Department at "+1 (860) 932-5351".
